"German companies are encouraged to explore and invest in diverse sectors in the UAE"

Interview with H.E. Sultan bin Saeed Al Mansoori, Minister of Economy of the UAE, by Helene Rang

H.E. Sultan bin Saeed Al Mansoori, Minister of Economy of the United Arab Emirates

Your Excellency, I am grateful for you taking the time to speak about the UAE's economic development. Let me begin by asking you how you evaluate the UAE's economy today?

We believe that the UAE economy is continuing its balanced and positive performance and has achieved several developmental milestones in the past few years that have helped to stimulate its growth, enhance its competitiveness and ensure the sustainable development of the economy. The UAE today is the second largest Arab economy and one of the most vital economic hubs in the region, and we believe that it is an example of an emerging economy that is proceeding to become an advanced one with a clear vision and effective agenda for the future, driven by the full support and guidance of our wise leadership, which believes in insight and development that is achieved not by exploiting the available resources but by creating
